

Snow Plow Operator Battles Drifts In Race With Stork

1-24-1959

No snow plow operator battered drifts with more enthusiasm Tuesday than the one assigned to clear a road from Bellingham to Neptune Beach.

An emergency assignment resulting from a 3 a. m. telephone call to County Commissioner E. R. Haxton, the task involved either getting through or having an unattended birth at the home of Fred Finkbonner, Route 3, Ferndale.

Drifts having been removed, Mrs. Finkbonner was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital, arriving about 10:30 a. m. with time to spare.

At 2 p. m. the newest Finkbonner hadn't made his—or her—appearance.
