

TRAINS SLIDE, TOO—Backing northerly on Railroad avenue at the intersection of Magnolia street Wednesday afternoon, the tender and two drive wheels of a Chicago-Milwaukee-St. Paul & Pacific switch engine slid off the ice and snow-covered rails, narrowly missing a parked car, above. Another engine pulled the "ditched" locomotive back on its tracks.—Herald photo.